A Foleys catheter should be inserted using cathjell within 2 hours of epidural being sited.

Whilst catheter is insitu and an IVI is in progress, a fluid balance chart should be maintained.

Catheter should remain insitu until epidural is removed and women have regained full mobility.

Once catheter is removed, the timing and volume of first urine output should be documented.